THOMAS W. HENDRICK

TRIBUTES

PROF. R. R. TOLBERT

Principal

Agricultural Instructor

Clemson College (B.S.),
Graduate Student V.P.I.

Professor R. R. Tolbert came to Culpeper High School as principal September, 1918. He came to us from Middletown, Virginia, after teaching there for four years, having previously taught in Mississippi for three years.

Professor Tolbert received his B.S. degree at Clemson College, South Carolina, and has been a graduate student of V.P.I., Blacksburg, Virginia. He is not only principal of C.H.S., but also instructor of agriculture.

It is with sadness that we seniors leave his happy domain and we sincerely hope that his excellent service and his happy personality will long be an asset to our school.

Miss Ruth Campbell came to Culpeper High School in September, 1914. She taught here until 1917, when she became principal of Midway High School in Albemarle County, but returned to Culpeper in the fall of 1918 as assistant principal, a position which she still most ably fills.

Miss Campbell is a graduate of Farmville State Teachers College and she received her B.S. degree at University of Virginia.

We wish to pay a tribute to Miss Campbell, who has always been so interested in our welfare and who continuously aids us in all of our projects.

MISS RUTH CAMPBELL

Assistant Principal

Math Instructor

GRADUATION

Yes, I guess it's true
That graduation is here for us few;
Four long years we've trod this path,
Sometimes happy, sometimes with wrath.

Let us recall the years gone by,
When it was hard, we said, "I'll try,"
Then we accomplished a thing or two
Until we thought we knew.

Freshmen—the goal—so far away,
Sophomores—no, not yet today,
Juniors! oh, it's drawing near,
Seniors—only one more year.

Now we stand clad in cap and gown,
Feeling as if we own the town,
With our hand almost on the coveted reward,
We are about ready to start abroad.

Now it's time we bid adieu
To Senior class and each of you,
There's nothing more to say, unless
It is farewell to C. H. S.

—HILDA COMPTON.

SONG

Tramp, tramp, tramp, we Seniors marched.
Marched forward to our goal
While we worked and studied
Played and laughed together.
We are marching forward
We are striving for democracy.

We all thought we would be happy
When we reached our goal
But it is with sorrow
That we march along
Through the gates of learning
To a tomorrow of democracy.

—BARBARA GUINN.

With apologies to Victor Herbert.

CLASS HISTORY

Way back in 1937 we seniors of today entered High School in that lowly estate occupied by Freshmen. Because our class was so large, we were divided into three rooms, under Mr. Wright, Mr. Shotwell, and Miss Gentile. We soon learned our way around and having organized with George as our President, began to feel extremely important. Our first social event was a picnic given by the Seniors. That was the year in which the Student Government was organized, "Orchids for Marie" won the play contest in Orange, and the Glee Club for the first time, participated in the Music Festival at Richmond. Ours was the first Freshman class to have individual pictures in the COLONNADE. It was a full and pleasant year and we acquired an increased knowledge of "puppy love," Algebra, and things in general.

By the time we entered our second year, we had calmed down a little and begun to take a larger part in extra-curricular activities. That was a big year in the annals of our progress through High School. The football team won the Class C championship of Eastern Virginia, and the track team took first place at the meet at Charlottesville. The representatives that attended the Hi-Y conference at Warrenton reported a huge success, as did the Glee Club, which received the rating of "excellent" at the Music Festival. So ended another year.

For most of us, high school was now half over and our goal was drawing ever nearer. We worked hard that year under our president, "Snort" Huffman, and gave the Seniors a banquet that we will not soon forget. Mr. Caldwell became a welcomed member of our faculty and soon proved his ability by the expert sponsoring of several organizations. C. H. S. entertained the delegates from the District Hi-Y Clubs with a conference which was entertaining, as well as instructive. Thus, in spite of our "trials and tribulations," we managed to sail through our Junior Room.

Seniors at last! Nevertheless, for all our importance, we were at heart still the impressionable Freshmen of '37 with maybe a little more serious attitude. We were immediately organized with George again our president and the capable hand of Miss Winn to guide us. Settling down to a year of work, we began by giving the Freshmen a picnic. The Football team, under Mr. Null, was runner-up for the state championship and the commercial course was installed. What fun we had selecting our rings and how anxiously did we await their arrival! The invitations were finally selected, the Senior play given and the COLONNADE published. Now with Graduation drawing near, we want to say "Adieu" to our classmates, friends, and faculty with a smile, maybe a tear, and a sincere "Godspeed."

L. GRIFFEN.

DR. BURTON PRESENTS THEORY FOR CURE OF RARE BRAIN DISEASE

Staunton, Va., Jan. 19....—Dr. Christine Burton, noted brain specialist, announced today she had found a cure for rarabositis, a shrinkage of the brain.

It seems, according to Dr. Burton, this disease occurs only in cases where brains have been in moth balls, on cold storage, or otherwise not in use for some months. Dr. Burton continues by saying the only cure for this is stretching of the brain. At present the only means by which the brain may be enlarged is by mental exertion. However, Dr. Burton hopes to perfect a device in the near future which will enable the average person to get his brains stretched at a nominal cost.

PROF. EDWARD BOLDRIDGE OF LEARN-IT-EASY UNIV. ANNOUNCES NEW MATH THEORY

Inlet, Va., January 20....—"All my life," states Professor Boldridge, "I've thought math too taxing on the brain of a growing child. After months of research and experimenting, I wish to announce to the world that math should not be taught to a child before he is twenty-five (25). At that age, if he shows any aptitude for the study of math, administer a little arsenic to put him out of his misery."

LOIS ALLEN LECTURES ON ART

San Francisco, Calif., Jan. 18,—Miss Lois Allen lectured to an enormous audience last night. Her topic was "ART FOR DEMOCRACY." After the lecture the select group of California art lovers, the San Francisco Art Society, were privileged to view the artist's collection of paintings, including her most renowned painting, "The American Way of Life."

SUPER STYLE AND FORM SLIPS IN TO WIN BY EIGHTEEN LENGTHS

Churchill Downs, Ky., January 19,—Super Style and Form, wonder horse of Virginia sportsman, Will Jeffries, won the midwinter Kentucky Derby by 18 lengths.

This startling feat was performed with feminine jockey Louise Griffin at the reins.

ANNUAL GALA DRAWS THOUSANDS

Washington, D. C., January 19,—There were more movie, stage, and television stars in Washington last night for the Gala than on any other pre-inaugural Gala.

The President and his wife occupied the honor guest box last night. Mrs. Beard appeared quite gay in a red taffeta formal. She carried a bouquet of gardenias nearly thirteen inches wide.

The program opened in a serious vein with Dr. Richie Rosenberg conducting the Washington Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra in his own composition, Rosenberg's Symphony of 1960.

The mood was lightened, however, by the appearance of the radio comedians, Thelma Weaver and Helen Townsley. They presented an amusing skit entitled, "Two Nuts in a Night Club."

Betty Brown with her revue of Snappy Tap Dancers appeared next. Although their ovation was tremendous, they only bowed as has been the custom for participants of Galas for years.

The highest paid star in television, Miss Dorothy Hawkins, sang a Mexican number. She was greatly applauded and people could be heard saying, "What wonderful red hair!"

TELEVISION STAR CATCHES SEVENTH IN A ROW

New York City, January 19,—It was revealed here today from a reliable source that Florence Fenderson was quietly married to Ezriah Snodgrass III of Piney Ridge, Montana.

The bride's only attendant was Virginia Norris, night club dancer.

This was Miss Fenderson's seventh marriage and Mr. Snodgrass's first.

"HEALTHIEST KIDS IN U. S. HERE AT MY SCHOOL," SAYS DR. MARION BOOTH

Sperryville, Va., Jan. 19,—Not a cold in six years is Dr. Booth's record for 200 average children. These youngsters have been students of a school where all classes are held in the open. The students of this boarding school sleep in the open and eat their food as nearly uncooked as possible. Dr. Booth is of the opinion that if everyone lives in this manner eventually all disease would be entirely stamped out.

MARGARET WOODS, STAR OF THE SILVER SKATES, THRILLS FANS

Madison Square Garden, Jan. 19,—Margaret Woods thrilled thousands yesterday when she gave an exhibition of her fine skating skill.

The handsome, talented, skating dancer, Jack Jolliffe received the applause with her.

Among the more expert members her skating chorines are Marie Smo, Pearl Strother, Anna Lee Yowell and Edith Dodson.

FRANCES BLANKENBAKER VOTED MOST TALKATIVE WOMAN IN CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., January 19,—Senator Frances Blankenbaker, long noted for her lengthy and amusing debates, was voted the most talkative woman in Congress today by a joint resolution of both Houses.

Runnerup was Rep. Mildred Rossor.

DISCOVERY BY V. P. I. PROFESSOR TO SOLVE THE CHIL PROBLEM OF SPINACH EATING

Blacksburg, Va., January 18,—Professor Albert Settle of V.P.I., well known to the world today that he has solved the problem of spinach eating. "It will do more for the spinach industry than Popeye," he said.

It seems that he has invented a fluid that when sprayed upon distasteful foods changes the bad taste to one that resembles chocolate sodas. But who would want to spend the remainder of his life eating chocolate sodas?

THE OLD MAID SOCIETY HEARS INSPIRING BOOK REVIEW

Culpeper, Va., January 19,—The Old Maid Society held its bi-monthly meeting this afternoon at the home of its president, Miss Jean Hudson.

After the brief business session, the president introduced the special guest for the afternoon, Dr. Barbara Guin. She presented a review of her newest and most popular book, How To Get Your Husband In Ten Easy Lessons.

Following the review the authors answered questions over a cup of tea served by the hostess. Among the charter members present were: Margaret Smith and Mildred Bache.

Miss Kilby is a brunette with sparkling brown eyes and a peaches and cream complexion.

BROWN HAS RECORD CROWD FOR OPENING NIGHT

New York—The Great White Way was dazzled with the upper crust who jammed the Rialto for the opening of "The Platinum Blonde" starring Miss Eleanor Frances Brown last evening. Her golden personality again charmed the meticulous New York theater goers. Much of the success of this show can be attributed to the skillful direction of the playwright-director, Bobby Coates.

WHITE HOUSE LUNCHEON

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20,—All official Washington turned out for the luncheon given at the White House preceding the parade today.

Among the more noted figures there were Secretary of Agriculture Hilda Johnson; Secretary of Navy, John P. McNamara and his wife the former Dorothy Jones of Culpeper, Va. Governor Fred Claybrook and his wife of Virginia and Federal Judge, Walter Gore.

BEAUTICIANS PUT MITCHELLS ON MAP

Mitchells, Va.—Thousands of beauty-conscious women have been pouring in here from all over the country to get a shampoo. This shampoo concocted by the famous beauticians, Fanny Brown, Allene Clyburn, and Fannie Mae Myers, is said to keep the scalp in a good healthy condition and to stop any falling hair.

SIR BARRY VINCENT RHODES RETURNS FROM MARS

Floyd Bennett Field, New York, Jan. 19,—Sir Barry Vincent Rhodes breezed in early this morning from Mars.

When questioned as to the success of his trip, he amicably replied, "It was a delightful trip. Wow! What girls! What beautiful eyes!"

DUO CROSS COUNTRY ON BIKES IN SIX MONTHS

Seattle—Peggy Rosenberger and Russel O'Bannon pedaled down Main Street today. Miss O'Bannon and Miss Rosenberger left Culpeper, Virginia, June 1st. Their cross-country bicycle venture has been followed in the papers by the nation.

SPORTSWRITER AND COMMENTATOR IN HOSPITAL

New York City, Jan. 19,—K. Y. Thrift, noted sportswriter and commentator was stricken with a severe case of tonsillitis, during his sports broadcast last night. He was rushed to Emergency Hospital where the infected tonsils were removed.

Latest report from the hospital states that he is painfully recuperating.

PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL STARS VACATION IN FLORIDA

Miami—"Moe" Trainum, A. W. Hawkins, and "Goose" Green were seen relaxing today down on the beach. These professional football stars of the Blue Sox League were performing some intricate ballet steps which they termed "are needed to keep our figures."

REGINALD GREEN PUBLISHED BOOK

Chicago—"See Your Democratic Country," a book advocating travel in the United States, has been published. This is the first book the author, Reginald Green, has published.

President Beard Made Shortest Inaugural Address in History of United States

Washington, D. C. January.—Breaking all precedents in history of U. S. President George Plummer Beard, Jr., took the oath of office for the fourth consecutive term today. From small town Virginia pharmacist to the most renowned man of today's world, is the success story of the U. S.'s President for the next four years.

This inauguration broke another precedent. Marion Elizabeth Clement was the first woman to ever take the oath of office for the Vice-President's office.

A third precedent was broken by the weather's being clear and warm. The weather man predicted snow and very cold weather, but today was not a day for the keeping of precedents.

Even the inaugural address was concise. The President dwelt lightly on the advantages our country has as a democratic country that it could not enjoy otherwise. He said few words but in those few words he expressed the feelings of his people.

In the presidential reviewing stand for the parade were the president's wife, Mrs. Lorraine Weaver Beard, Dr. Lawrence Stringfellow, personal physician to the president; James Burke, personal bodyguard for the president; Ambassador Charlotte Thomas, home from her post at the Court of St. James; Senator William Rosson of Virginia; Secretary of Labor, Audrey Boyd; and Mr. and Mrs. William Francis Hudson, personal friends of the president.

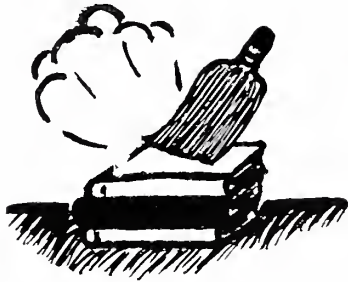

HARDWARE MAGNATE AND WIFE IN PLANE CRACK UP

Somewhere on the banks of Mt. Run Jan. 20, An S.O.S. was received in Culpeper today from the plane of J. W. Nicholson. It said, "Flying low speed somewhere over Mt. Run and expect to crack-up any moment." He was accompanied by his charming wife, the former Betty Davenport.

The ruins of the plane were discovered about a mile and half south of here. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson bailed out to safety and were floundering in the water when rescued.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the class of 1941, having completed our four-year quest for education, in full possession of well-wrought minds, do ordain and make known the following bequests:

To Clair Haley, Betty Davenport's curiosity.
To Kyle Brown, Mildred Bache's gift for Latin.
To Ellen Moore, Virginia Norris's freckles.
To Charles Partlow, Lawrence Stringfellow's "Tom Harmon's" features on the gridiron.

To not a solitary soul, Thelma Weaver's appetite.
To Peck Tanner, Albert Settle's "go gettum" business ability.
To Billy Eggborn, Christine Burton's 4'10".
To that bashful Junior, Edna Harris, Frances Kilby's success in love.
To Kenneth Rankin, Reginald Green's punctuality.
To Elmer "Jock" Trainum, Jack Jolliffe's subtle manner.
To Eunice Allen, few of Edith Dodson's excessive ounces.
To Catherine Palmer, Louise Griffin's musical talent.
To Barbara Bobst, Lois Allen's dramatic ability.
To Jean White, Dorothy Hawkins's circulation managing ability.
To Calvin Edwards, Kavanagh Thrift's ability to manage the candy booth.
To Bob Chilton, Bill Rosson's vim, vigor, and vitality in school.
To Stanley Button, Edward Boldridge's gift for Agriculture and women.
To A. W. Hawkins, Will Jeffries's honest opinion of himself.
To Eleanor Covington, Fred Claybrook's extra time to do his homework.
To Jacqueline Johnston, Marion Booth's success and skill in sports.
To Hawes Yowell, Walter Gore's ever increasing supply of girls.
To Rip Claybrook, Barry Rhodes's height.
To Roy Hutcherson, Frances Blankenbaker's extra credits.
To Bill Hitt, James Burke's guitar and western songs.
To Ruth Smith, Russell O'Bannon's liquidating and appealing smile.
To the basketball team, our wishes that they may some day get a gym.
To the football team, our ability to raise money.
To the baseball team, a team.

To the track members, more support.
To Henry Clayton Johnson, Richie Rosenberg's love for music.
To Mary Campbell Chilton, Betty Clement's swell leadership, they do not come much better.

To Eleanor Brown, Pearl Strother's incessant talk and flirtatious manner.
To Cameron Thompson, J. Wm.'s stylish clothes, but don't sit on his Davenport.

To Ada Newton Nalle, Margaret Woods' good humor to take a joke, but don't take her southern drawl.

To Puffy Brown, George Beard's remarks to work on the teacher's humor.
To "Wussy" Gilmore, "Fanny" Hudson's great athletic ability and sportsmanship, plus his way of handling blondes.

To Miss Winn, plenty of peace and quiet to repay her for trying to keep us still all year.

To Peggy O'Bannon, Florence Fenderson's free movies. (She will get them before long anyway.)

To Wert Hurt, Angus Green's "We will now sing the salute to the flag."

To Betty Simpson, Jean Hudson's way with the young men of C.H.S. and V.P.L.—But don't wade in her—Brook.

Most of the Seniors' dignity has been sadly worn to bits, so we beg that our new replacements apply to those of our number who still have a scanty supply of this much needed trait—Chotty Thomas, Mildred Rosson, Anna Lee Yowell, and Peggy Rosenberger.

HISTORY OF ANN WINGFIELD

Ann Frances Slaughter, daughter of a prominent family of Piedmont, Virginia, was born April 29, 1831. Early in her youth, she showed talent for the teaching profession, which she chose to follow the remainder of her life. After finishing school, she began to teach the youth of Virginia before public schools were established. While teaching in Hanover, she married Isaac N. Wingfield on November 19, 1861. After her husband's death, three years after their marriage, she began her teaching career in earnest. She taught near Culpeper for two years, and then in 1866, she moved into town where she conducted a private school until 1871. At this time, the public school system was organized, and the first public school in Culpeper was established in Mrs. Wingfield's dining room. For the next twenty-one years, as her school grew, Mrs. Wingfield taught in schools on Commerce and East Streets. She retired from public school work in 1910, after having served in our present public school system for eighteen years. She was 79 years old at this time, and at the age of 82, she was still an active person.

Our present high school building is known as the Ann Wingfield building, which stands as a memorial to one who long served our schools.

The Pepergram is published by students of Culpeper High School once a month. The staff is divided into two sections, the editorial and the business. The editorial staff, headed by the editor-in-chief, consists of twenty-five members this year. Twenty-one members compose the business staff, in charge of the business manager. The entire staff is under the direction of two faculty members.

Each issue of the Pepergram has four pages, each of which contains five columns. The first two pages are devoted to news articles, outstanding stories and "Gossiping Annie," which to the majority of students is the most entertaining feature of the paper. Sports occupy the third page, continued articles and club activities are found on the fourth.

The Pepergram is supported entirely by subscriptions and advertisements, contributed by local merchants. The total number of subscriptions for the year 1940-41 is one hundred and thirty-seven.

We may not sing like opera stars—
 But we know that
 We just do our best, and if we mar
 A song by some bad notes—for that
 We do ask pardon!
 But if we can make some day the brighter
 By our song, some heart lighter—
 That is our wish.

MOTTO

To create, maintain, and extend throughout the high school and community high standards of Christian character.

SLOGAN

Clean speech, clean thoughts, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship.

SONG

"Follow the Gleam"

The activities of the Hi-Y Club are numerous in order to uphold the standards of Christian character in the high school and community. Our biggest and most successful undertaking is that of providing a little child, less fortunate than ourselves, with medical care and the necessities that we can secure for her schooling. We always send baskets to the child's family at Christmas and Thanksgiving. We attend church in a group once a month and send cards and flowers to sick students and Hi-Y Alumni. To try to be a Gold Seal Club we have chapel programs once a month and a study course in which prominent citizens of Culpeper speak to us. The whole high school is always cordially invited to attend these courses. Then, as another feature, we usually sponsor an honesty campaign in the high school during the year at some time. The Hi-Y members were very privileged to attend two conferences, one at Blacksburg, another at Charlottesville. At both, Culpeper was ably represented. The most important accomplishment is to organize two new clubs. Each year the Hi-Y Club entertains the alumni of Hi-Y at a picnic during the summer. We sometimes entertain the high school with a play at Thanksgiving. The outstanding social function is the Mother-Daughter Banquet, which members give for their mothers.

Anyone who is passing three subjects, is making an average of B on conduct, and has a high moral standard is eligible to become a member of the Hi-Y Club.

The Boys' Hi-Y Club holds its meetings the first and third Monday nights at 7:15. Under the leadership of the president and their sponsor, Mr. Caldwell, the club conducts many various activities. At Christmas and Thanksgiving they send baskets to the poor. They conduct with the girls Hi-Y an Honesty Campaign, a study course, and also chapel programs once a month in the auditorium.

They attend church in a body with the girls once a month.

At the District 4 Conference held in Charlottesville they send five delegates to bring back valuable information to the entire group.

OUR AUDITORIUM

During the past two years, an organization committee consisting of two able faculty members, Miss Winn and Mr. Caldwell, has greatly improved our auditorium until now we are prouder of our coöperation. Each student, alphabetically arranged, is assigned a certain seat in the section provided for the different classes, and he retains this location throughout the entire year. The Freshman classes are seated on the right as you enter the door; the Sophomores, on the left. The Juniors hold the middle section just behind the Seniors, who march in after the undergraduates have been seated.

The formal opening exercises led by the chairman, Angus Green, constitute saluting the United States Flag (which proudly adorns the left-hand corner of the stage), singing the National Anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," and repeating the Lord's Prayer.

The four Junior ushers, whose duties are to seat guests, preserve order, pass the song books, and carry out any other specific duties, are: Wert Hurt, Bob Chilton, Henry Clayton Johnson, and Charles Franklin Clement.

This picture was taken during one of the talks of the Study Course sponsored by the Boys' and Girls' Hi-Y Clubs.
